19th ASEF Summer University

Sustainable Urbanisation in Heritage Cities

#ASEFSU

Be a part of an interdisciplinary hack-a-thon that links urban spaces with heritage preservation

Why does heritage matter in a modern city? How does architectural heritage and inherent cultural practices influence urban spaces of the 21st century? Can technology provide unexplored potential of heritage preservation in cities? Join us for the 19th edition of ASEF Summer University \(ASEFSU\)* and tackle these questions. We look for an eclectic pool of experienced students and young professionals.

ASEFSU is your platform to interact with experts ranging from urban developers to technologists and civil society organisations working on heritage conservation. It offers a fusion of dialogue sessions, solution-focused workshops, and a hack-a-thon where you will jointly digital and physical prototypes, social impact models and business plans.

*ASEF Summer University (ASEFSU) is a longstanding project run by the Asia-Europe Foundation \(ASEF\) since 1998. ASEFSU is a 2-weeks annual project that aims to foster cross-cultural networks among youth from ASEM member countries.
